

MAC'S MONTHLY ADVICE!

Mac is back with some fun facts about July!

In addition to the United States, these are some of the other countries celebrating their Independence Day in July: Argentina, the Bahamas, Belarus, Belgium, the Maldives, and Venezuela. France and Canada also celebrate their important national days in July.

The long and hot days of July are sometimes called the "dog days of summer" because on average, it is the warmest month in the Northern Hemisphere. I just like the sound of that, not the hot temperatures.

Ruby is the birthstone for the month and is often associated with contentment, love, passion, and integrity.

Stay cool and have fun this month!
Happy 4th of July my fellow Americans!
