

MAC'S MONTHLY ADVICE!

Cleaning out the house when everything feels so cluttered can be a "ruff" job, but your buddy Mac is here to help you learn about a few smart, responsible, and lucrative ways to recycle your unwanted electronics!

SEEK OUT TECH FIRMS!

By taking your used-but-usable electronics to them, like laptops and cell phones, you can receive store credit, gift cards, or other rewards. Recycling has never felt so good.

CHECK OUT PROGRAMS THAT DONATE YOUR OLD PRODUCTS!

Some organizations, like Dell and eBay, have electronic-specific programs that allow you to donate the money from your recycled electronics to various non-profit and charity organizations.

FIND YOUR LOCAL RECYCLER!

If nothing else, you don't want your old tech to become toxic waste. Some non-profits, like Call2Recycle, help you find easy and free locations where you can get your electronics out of your hands and disposed of properly!

REMEMBER TO WIPE ALL PERSONAL INFORMATION!

Before you donate your electronics, clear them of any data to ensure your privacy and safety!
