

Mac's Monthly Advice!

Happy new year! From Eileen's furry friend, Mac!

Every year resolutions get made, and every year resolutions get bested by old habits. One way to help yourself stay on track this year is to get yourself organized. It's not as tough as you think. Here's a great way to get started. Get yourself some manila folders and keep track of your expenses. Put your medical expenses in one folder, your fuel expenses in another. Household/grocery expenses get their own folder, as do insurance expenses. Keeping these items organized will go a long way at tax time when you're trying to scramble to get your paperwork ready by the annual deadline.
